

The Unicorn

Once upon a time in a galaxy far far away there was a unicorn. Her name was Lily. Lily loved being with her friends and making crafts. One day she was going to meet up with some friends, but the friends weren't there. Lily called their names because she thought they were playing a game of hid and seek. Nope. She looked all over the Rainbow Kingdom. She found a note saying, " I'm coming! " She didn't understand. Then a girl came running out and scared Lily. Lily hides behind the green bushy bush. The girl yelled out "Help help there are unicorns with this iceman". Lily said "get on" and they galloped to the gate to see that the iceman was Jack Frost. "Jack Frost let those unicorns go," said Lily. "Never," said Jack Frost. Then out of nowhere Wonder Woman came and fought Jack Frost. The unicorns escape and then went back to Rainbow kingdom.

They are back at the Rainbow kingdom and they are play games like they usually do. Lily's friends were playing hide and seek. When I was looking for them they had turned into stone. No no no not another problem! Then I realize that their stones on their chest was gone! This is bad this is really bad. I have to fix this. I started to look around and more and more unicorns were turn in to stones. Then I saw a tail sticking out of the bush. There! I ran to that bush I got ya! Oh sorry, mr. piff. Ummmm have you seen the person who is turning the unicorns in to stone he right? Wow, thanks. I went to chase after him gotcha give me all the Stones you have " never!" How can I do this I got it I set a booby trap where he was heading up next then when he came I dropped it and I got him to give me this number right now make you give it to me"Fine fine fine here take them. I put all of the stones in the game that were missing one of the queen. Good thing I didn't take him out of the trap. I went back a got the stone and put it back. Then we were all good we lived happily ever after

The End 🌈🌈
