

Catacorn
Abbigail C.

Gabby and her cat ,Cottonball were at the ice-cream parlor staring at a worm inching its way to the soil . Gabby had her ice-cream in her hand (it was sherbert).She was also very clumsy...and by accident she dropped her ice cream on the cat's head.

It looked like a CATAcorn!! (it was priceless)
Suddenly a rainbow appeared and the cat started floating and followed the rainbow. It saved just enough time for Gabby to grab on...

It led them to the far future. The catacorn ran away but Gabby was to thoughtless because her own funeral going on.

Then she looked up and found out her catacorn was gone. She put up HUGE posters but since it was the future there was a popular app instead. So Gabby got an iPhone 87 then got the app. She posted her catacorns picture everywhere Soon someone contacted her and said "Your catacorn is in my backyard."(I guess catacorns are a thing in the future). Gabby ran to the house, got her catacorn and said "Lets go home." But there was a problem... her catacorn was out of rainbow!

"Catacorn you ran out of rainbow?" Explained Gabby.She did not know what to do. 1.She never had a catacorn run out of rainbow and 2. She never even had a catacorn before. She went to the gas station and got rainbow-colored gas (I guess that's a thing too).The catacorn drank it. Gabby counted down from 100...(2 minutes later) "BLAST OFF".They went torpedoed all the way back to the ice-cream parlor and continued playing on Gabby's iPhone 10.
