The Princess

Once upon a time, far away lived a Princess named Randi Lu. She just turned 16, on April 20th. She got lots of gifts, but there was only one gift she always wanted.

"Mom I need to tell you something." "Mom!" "Where you are?" Randi sighed with relief "There you are, there is something I need to tell you."

"What is the darling?"

"I wanted to make my own decisions." the princess explains.

"No"! Mom shouted. "I'll need to talk to your father!"

The next day her mother had an announcement

"Honey where are you?"

"I'm here!"

"Okay I spoke with your father, and we agreed you need to take a test!"

"What?" "Why mom? Why?"

"You have to ask your Father." The queen explained.

Later that day the princess finally talks to her father, and here is what happened...

"Father why do I need to take a test, to make my own choices?" princess Randi Lu asked.

"Because that is how I was taught, and now you must too!" "The test starts now!"

"What?"

"It has begun, but you will not know where or when, so just carry on with the rest of your day."

So, she carried on to Sophia's, as she was traveling to the nearby Village she crossed the Rocky Bridge. Out of the corner of her eye she saw a shiny nickel laying on the ground. She thought to herself, this must be my lucky day. When she grabbed it, she realizes it belongs to an older woman. She had dropped it when she was getting up from the bench.

"Hi, did you drop this?"

"Yes I did, thank you." As she continued her journey to Sophia's House, she passes the Stoney Stream, she sees a duckling wandering around.

"Are you my mother" the duckling cracked.

"Don't worry I have some royal friends that can help us." Luckily the mother duck came back just in time.

The mother duck quacked "Thank you so much! "There you are my baby."

Randi Lu hurried up, and got to Sophia's house as quick as she can. Before she could even knock on the door.

"There you are! "I called you 45 times! Sophia cried. "It doesn't matter just put on this apron"

"Sophia what is going on" princess Randi shouted.

“My dad's birthday is today, and I have not made his cake.” Sofia shouted.

“Okay I will help you, but I have to leave soon” princess Randi explained. “That's okay as long as you make this cake now! “Get to work!” Sophia shout.

After much sugar and sprinkles Randi Lu headed over to the palace. So she hurried as fast as she can, she passes the Stoney Stream, and the Rocky Bridge. Finally, she arrived at her castle. She told her dad all about her day, and he told her she had passed. By putting others before herself, and willingness to help a complete stranger impressed him very much. He praised Randi Lu for her kindness, and told her how proud of her he was. And now she can make her own decisions, and when she becomes queen, she will love what she can do.
