

One Evil Ninja

Hi-rod was an evil ninja that lived in a pitch black cave, he had no friends, no family and his only concern was money. Each day Hi-rod would start his day off really early by hunting for food after he satisfied his craving he then would begin his search for his victim/ "Money time!" Hi-rod would say he would walk the wealthy village he came across a woman smelled like money. He watched and stared in amazement of the giant gold ring on her finger and gold lined shoes she had on her feet. He couldn't see her face because she was covered in head to tow in a gown and had a huge hat to cover to her face. Hi-rod began to quietly follow her back to her home, low and behold she lived in a huge house all by her self. He watched as little woman took her goods that she had just bought and scattered into the house. Hi-rod patiently planned his attack that night he wanted to get in while the woman slept and take the ring and shoes and anything else of any value. So that night when it was good and dark he quietly came to her back window and opened it and let one foot in at time to carefully not wake the woman up. Hi-rod stood up in the woman's house and was greeted with a huge pop to his face. The woman had knocked Hi-rod down to floor and she began to quickly tie him up so tightly that Hi-rod the evil ninja could not move, not even a little. The woman poured water over this strange man that broke in her house and told the man to wake up. Hi-rod was confused one moment he was breaking in about to rob a little old woman and the next thing he knows he is tied up and laying in front of the most beautiful woman he had ever seen. The woman asked "who are you and why are you here?" Hi-rod was so confused and embarrassed he didn't have anything to say. She looked really closely at the man and said "I am ninja my self and believe in the blue spirit which is all things good and peaceful if you ever come into my home again I will tie you up in deepest of the mountains and leave their to sulk on the evil horrible things you have done, I hope you change your ways and quickly because if you have not I will find you." The woman untied Hi-rod and he quickly ran off with so many thoughts racing through his brain. How could this happen? Was she really a ninja? What does she mean she will find me? What am I going to do? What does the woman mean by change? He wasn't even happy to be back in his cave he felt like something had changed in his cave he once called home. Hi-rod woke up the next morning and was shocked to see an old woman had stumbled across his cave and she was trapped in between a rock and crying for help. Hi-rod woke up and rushed over to old woman's aide he helped move the stone that had punctured the old woman's leg. He tore off his shirt and wrapped the woman leg up with it to stop the bleeding. The woman was so grateful for his help she gave him a huge hug and a apple and left on about her day. Hi-rod began to feel hungry and went out to the forest to hunt. He saw the biggest pig he had ever saw and began to climb up a tree so he could could attack it. when he climbed up the tree their was a little boy up in the tree crying. He asked the boy "why are you crying?" The boy replied because I cant catch a fish to feed my family. Hi-rod helped the little boy out the tree and told him he would help him catch a fish. He repaired his fishing rod and took the boy to best fishing spot that he knew of, the boy caught a hug fish and he was pleased the little boy gave him his necklace. At the end of the day Hi-rod was overcome with something he had never felt before Happiness. He walked back to his cave and found the woman he met the night before standing in his cave. Hi-rod walked up to her and she spoke "I have seen good in your heard and I know you can do great things. She gave him a blue shining star and asked Hi-rod can he protect the people instead and live in the blue light. Hi-rod agreed and lived in the light and protected the people as he promised.
