

The Evil School Robots! By: Joe W.

BCMS, 8:07 a.m.,

There was this kid named Lane, the average 7th grader, who sat at the discipline chair, once again. Lane had always got in trouble in so many ways. Like one time, he threatened that he would shove a kids face in the toilet if he didn't give him his lunch money. One day, his teacher got a new thing in her classroom. He gazed at it, it was the most precious thing he had seen in his entire life. It was this cool looking Glass Dolphin Figure. It was so unique, and see through, and shiny! He knew he had to get it. The only way to get it was to steal it from the teacher, but how?

He had decided, that at 9:00 p.m (when he knew none of the teachers would be at school), to sneak out of the house, go to the school and steal it from the classroom. At first he thought it was a bad idea, then he looked over at it again, and then he knew he had to get it.

Walk from school, 3:20 p.m.,

He had decided that he was going to tell his parents he was going for a late walk. His parents wouldn't care anyways because he knew they sleep early. When he got home, he got out blue construction paper, and drew out his plans. He decided that he was going through the door of the principal's office, through the library, and in the classroom.

Bed-Time, 8:30 p.m.

His parents were already asleep, so he got on dark clothes to blend in with the darkness, and a small bag, that would protect the fragile item he's stealing. He got to the school in 28 minutes (right on time!), and did what he planned. It took him 2 minutes to get ready, and sooner or later, it was then, 9:00 p.m. . What nobody did know, is that the principal, and the Librarian, were actually... Robots! Evil Killing Robots who if see's someone Undetected, killed you! Lane didn't know this though. So he did what he had planned. First, he went through the principals office, and didn't notice glowing red eyes. Second, he went through the library, where the Librarian was hiding under her desk. Lastly, he had made it into the classroom, just as planned. He had gotten the Glass Dolphin Figure, and put it in his bag, gently.

Later as he was going down the hall, he heard a sound. It was a loud breathing sound. He just ignored it and started to get scared when he heard more than 1 breathing sound. Lane was freaking out. He had no idea what was going on. He just sat down to think as he panicked. Then, he heard footsteps coming toward him in the dark hall way. He started to run away as he heard noises.

“I’m coming for you,” a voice said.

“Here is your punishment for intruding!” another voice said.

He looked around because one voice was on the right, and another on the left. He looked to the right, then back to the left, and horrified, he saw this in front of him:

Horrified, he ran toward the hallway where the other voice was. He was lucky. The evil Robot Librarian had not got him. He was running super fast, trying not to be caught by what he thought was... a principal! He was right at the exit. Before he went through the exit, cops were around the school, seeing a kid in a black suit at 9:15 p.m.

Decision time, 9:17 p.m.,

He was super scared. First, he finds out the principal and the librarian are evil-killing robots, then the cops were outside the door. What would he do? Go outside with his hands up and get arrested for stealing; or would he risk staying inside the haunted school until morning. It took him awhile to decide, but eventually, he came outside, where the cops were.

There were 4 cops at the school, his mom and dad were there too. Lane tried to explain, but then the cops checked his pockets and found a bag. The cops then opened the bag to find a glass dolphin figure. Lane didn't know what to say. He felt sorry. Lane's parents were talking to the cops, trying to figure this whole problem out. The cops decided he had to stay in jail, for 5 years because of robbery. Lane tried to explain about the principal and the librarian being evil killing robots. They investigated the school, and they were not there. Lane was then put in handcuffs, and sent to jail. This was the most tragic day he had ever had. The school would never be the same again, and nobody will ever know, the secret of that school. That the Librarian and Principal, are secretly killer robots.
