

Friendship

Friendship reminds me of a tower

Twisting, turning,

Falling, crashing,

But always rebuilding

Stronger than ever a bond that can never

Be broken

We move apart then another will start

Building and bonding

Together

Never say never

You pull the lever

To a friendship beyond your imagination

Sticking to you

Like you never knew

Glowing like radiation

We change inside and out

You can tell by our shout

But soon we grow closer

Together

Happy days

Sad days

In-between ways

Our moods change like the weather

Side by side

We can always decide

Whether or not to go in alone ,

Any way you play it

Any way you name it

You will always be my home.

Nikki W.