

The Girl That Cried Vampire! by Deyanira S.

There was once a teenage girl. She had friends, was nice, and was overall what others would consider normal. She didn't care what others said about anything she did or had. On a particularly stormy night, she decided to go with her friends to the movies. Shortly after the movie ended, she and her friends began walking home together. One by one, they each got dropped off. When only two girls were left, they decided to go into the woods to take a short cut but of course it had to be through the woods. Something blew by so fast they didn't even get a good look at whatever it was. The girls both stopped walking, their hearts beating so loud and their breaths grew quick. "Are you here to play with me?" said a deep voice. "Whose there?" Replied Jasmine her voice quivering with fear. "Your newest friend" the voice replied. The other girl quickly reacted and started running home, leaving Jasmine alone and helpless. Someone came flying above her with white fangs. Before Jasmine could even process the words in her mouth she was crying "Vampire!" She went running as fast as she could ignore the voice in the back of her head that was telling her it would make no difference. The vampire came swooping down from the sky before taking a big bite at Jasmine's throat leaving a mark on her. Jasmine didn't waste another second before taking off again. When Jasmine got home she told her parents what had just happened and showed them the mark on her neck as well. Within seconds her parents started bursting out tears of laughter. "Good one you can literally see that that's a fake tattoo" Jasmine quickly replied saying "I'm telling the truth please say you believe me." The dad said "Sorry honey we can't say that when it's not true." Jasmine went running upstairs when she looked at her mirror, mumbling the words "this is just a dream" to herself for reassurance. Then her reflection started fading, soon she couldn't even see her reflection. Then she smelled something delicious she just couldn't stay away from. She decided to go downstairs in search of the source of the delicious smell. She asked if they were cooking something like her favorite desert cupcakes her parents said "no" then they asked if she was wearing fake fangs she asked "fake fangs?" She said "oh yeah my fake fangs" she said with a giggle. She dashed upstairs and tried to take the teeth off but they wouldn't come off. She started connecting all the dots and soon realized she was a vampire! That's why she smelled something delicious it was here parent's blood! At school the smell got bigger she felt like everyone was looking at her fangs and bite mark. Knowing that she couldn't keep it a secret, especially from her best friend, she told Emily. After deciding she didn't want to stay as a vampire, they came up with a plan. First of all they had to find the vampire that bit

Jasmine. Second they had to find out how to transform her back to a human. That same afternoon after school they went into the woods again to find the vampire “your back” the vampire said. “Are you here to play this time?” “no” said Jasmine “we are here for you to tell us how to turn me back to normal” “Ahhh but you have to get blood from the person you love most”. So Jasmine and Emily left to Jasmynes parent’s doctor and said that they were feeling woozy and needed shots. Jasmine had earlier told her parents that the blood donation center were in need of blood due to an emergency code that was in place and was able to convince them to go the same day. Later at the blood drive center Jasmine stole the blood. She then took the blood home and drank it. It didn’t taste bad , if anything it tasted good but Jasmine suspected it was because she was a vampire. Noticing it hadn’t worked she decided she just needed to give it time. The following morning she was still the same. Therefore she went to look for the vampire again. He said it hadn’t worked because her parents were not the people she loved the most. She then went to her grandma’s house and when that didn’t work she went to her friend’s house, then her cousins house, and the last person she thought of was Emily her very best friend she tried it and it worked!!!! THE PERSON SHE LOVED THE MOST WAS RIGHT IN FRONT OF HER!!! Emily and Jasmine hugged each-other tightly. After actually getting to know the vampire they noticed he wasn’t as scary as he had come off. They continued to visit the vampire every week, and they all lived happily ever after. THE END
