Going to Space

Everyone wants to go to space! But a lot of people can't because they say you have to go through millions of test. But in a town named Live, Laugh, and Love there was one girl in that town who wanted to do amazing things but lots of people are bringing her down and said you can't go to space your just a failure. And sadly she believed it but one night she was about to close her eyes and suddenly she opened them wide and stared to talk to herself saying 'I can do anything if I believe and try'. She said it so much that she was encouraged to wake her parents and tell them that I am going to space no matter what you say. And sure enough they didn't say anything. So she made her way to sleep. That morning she woke up and her parents were making stacks of pancakes. Ashley said 'what's the special occasion.' 'Your big day,' her mother replied. 'What big day?' Ashley said. 'The day you go to space,' her mom said. She wanted to go alone but dad came. When they were lifting off she felt the pressure coming but they were in space. She saw all of the planets she wanted to see by just believing.
