

The Story of Mena and the Necklace

Black hair, Hazel eyes, and blah. That's how I described myself. I think i am the most BORING person in the world. I am 21, soon to be 22, and i wanted to do something exciting, but i had a fear of traveling. Well, specifically buses, caused by all the news reports about crashes and all that horrible news. I live in stonefall, a little city in the country housing but a couple of homes, and a single office building, called "bink inc." which i think is quite a silly name honestly, but i just happen to work there. But, it's fine because my birthday is next wednesday, the 21 of March, so I won't be a boring person, whos boring 21 no more! Hmm... well, i might as well count the days till my birthday! Let's see...one...two..three...Oh wait! This calendar is in april, not march! Guess i should flip back to march... Oh? Its tomorrow??? My birthdays tomorrow? Whoops.
