

Camaiah

“Camaiah we need to tell you something”, says her parents. “We are getting a divorce.” Camaiah’s heart dripped. She was so sad that she ran upstairs and cried herself to sleep. The next day she was laying in her bed thinking on how to fix everything! Camaiah jumped up and realized what she can do, she said what if they try to get along and then they won’t get a divorce. Camaiah ran downstairs to her parent’s room, and they weren’t there, she ran outside and saw her parents. They were arguing, her dad had a suit case and her mom was yelling at her dad. Camaiah had a tear, she hated seeing her parents fight. When Camaiah’s dad left it was just her and her mom. Her mom walked in and said, “Look I know me and your dad don’t get along but just know we both will always love you!” Camaiah was depressed her parents divorce. A week later her mom said, “Camaiah wake up you’re going with your dad for the weekend. Camaiah was super excited to see her dad, but her mom wasn’t. Camaiah’s mom said, “ I’m just going to drop you off.” Camaiah said, “Ok!” A few minutes later they got to Camaiah’s dad’s house. Camaiah’s mom said, “bye I love you, I will see you Sunday!” “Ok bye mom love you!” Camaiah’s dad was at the door with his arms open waiting to hug her. Camaiah ran to her dad and gave him a big huge hug. They went inside and had some lemonade, but then a girl came down stairs and said, “Hi I’m Kaitlyn!” Camaiah asked her dad who it was. Camaiah’s dad said that is my girlfriend. Camaiah was not happy! Two days later it was time for Camaiah to go home, she told her mom everything and her mom said she was fine with that because she’s not worried about him anymore. Camaiah’s mom told Camaiah that they are going to a festival! Camaiah was so excited when they got there. She had never been so happy, neither was her mom.
