Jayden the Amazing Artist

I am the best artist, I thought to myself looking out the window. What a beautiful day. I decided to paint outside, so I go downstairs to ask my mom. "Can I go paint outside" I asked. "Yes," she said. So I go outside and find a place to paint. I paint for 30 minutes. It was done. My brother Jack came outside and said, "It looks really nice." I said, "Thanks." He went inside and watched TV. I put my art in my room and rode my bicycle outside. It was a beautiful day.

Today I walked to school with my best friend Jeremy. "How was yesterday?" he said. "Wonderful," I said. "Do you want to come over to my house?" he asked me. "Sure," I said. When we were walking we saw the school. So we start running towards it. When we got inside the bell rang. We go in our class and do our work. In the afternoon the principal says that there was an important announcement so we all go back into the class.

Then the announcement said, "Listen Billsprout students, today there will be an art contest. Whoever wins will get to meet a famous artist. It's due tomorrow." We were all excited. We all started thinking about what we were going to paint. It was a lot of talking.

After school I go to Jeremy's house. "Do you want to start working on our art for the art contest?" I asked. Let's start," he said. So we started drawing for 1 hour. It was time for me to go home so I told him to keep working. We call each other on the phone. We both finished just in time.

Today is the day. We are going to see who will win the art contest. We were all excited. There it was. "The student who wins the art contest is..... Jayden, for his amazing waterfall art." Everyone clapped for me. I was right, I was an amazing artist. From then, I wanted to be an artist when I grow up. I just have to believe in myself.
