

How World War 3 Began...

By

Jonathan

One day I was just playing some games. Until someone started to bang his hand on my door. I walked up to my door then opened it and I said. Hello? The man I saw was wearing a camo hat, pants, shirt, and then he told me. You have been chosen to fight in WW3. What why? Uh I don't know but come on! Ok, ok just wait. You got 5 mins. Ok how to skip WW3. Yes, I will just say I'm 14 ok. I'm back and I am 14 so you cannot take me. Actually, I can so come on! Ok. This is where I have to be. Will not exactly. Why? Well you have to pick a team. I want to pick one. Whoa whoa whoa slow down. Here are the teams we got. Air, ground and under water. I pick ground. Great. Eat this. What is that! It's M R E and it stands for meal ready to eat. Oh by the way why are we in WW3 . It all started in New York when they nuked Japan then Japan nuked New York and then Texas took New York but then Florida got mad and started WW3 and that's how the war started. But then when the nuke hit Japan it also hit a power plant with a fox then the fox got super powers from the nuke.
THE END...