

The Lost Dog that Never Returned Home

By: Manuel

Once upon a time, a family wanted to adopt a little puppy, so they went to a pet store and their parents let the kids choose whichever pet they liked. Out of all the puppies in the store, they chose a little puppy with black spots. They called him Blacky. They took him home, and they showed him his new stuff. They had a house, a bowl, and some food and water for him already set up. They gave him food and water every day, and every year Blacky kept growing and growing until he was a grown dog. The kids kept giving him lots of food and water so he got stronger and bigger, but one night, there was another dog walking by the house. Blacky followed the stranger dog, but he got lost and did not know his way back home. When the family woke up the next day and found out that Blacky was missing, they were so sad. The kids wanted to look for him so the parents let them try to find him, but it got dark after hours of searching. The kids had to go back home without him. Weeks passed. One day, the kids were playing in the yard when they heard a dog bark. It sounded familiar. They turned and saw that Blacky was standing in the gate. He had found his way home! Everybody hugged Blacky and gave him food and water right away. They were so happy he got back home.
