

LOVE, HATE, RESTART

LOVE IS CREATED WHEN TO OPPOSITE OR SAME GENDERS ATTRACT AND EMBRACE THEIR PASSION FOR BEING WITH THAT CERTAIN SOMEONE.

Love is a powerful feeling that makes us do a lot of things that we don't even think about regularly. When you love you give your mind, body, and soul into the relationship so you can try to make it last. Everything you have now becomes yours and your lovers. Every powerful thing also comes with a huge drawback. The name of the drawback is called hate.

Hate is also another powerful thing that can envelope your heart with the urge of something. Hate comes from anger, the feeling of betrayal in a relationship, or destruction of something you hold most dear. Hate also comes from the beautiful life called life, we can all start to have the feeling of hating life when it doesn't go our way, when our hearts develop fear and hatred of something than had a tight bond to you. You hate when things go out of your control and you can't fix it no matter what, that whole that envelopes our with despair and it stays with us our whole lives, like a bullet wound or a knife cut, but after thus feeling we repeat.

Repetition is what we all do to try and make us feel whole again, sometimes it works and sometimes it doesn't. Love and hate are powerful feelings that we all have.

There was once a guy and a girl, they met in a skating rink during their experience in meeting each other they found out they have a lot in common. They both have had breakdowns and not a lot of build ups, they both don't have a father and eternal despair surrounding them. The talk they had was a long and exciting conversation, trading zodiacs, it was one hell of a time that they both cherished. Within a few days they started going out having lots of fun, talking till they are content, staying up all night just sharing experiences and memories that they hold close to them. Later in the relationship it became a bit unstable, the boy and the girl got into a lot of arguments and they both became paranoid of losing one another so they tried lecturing each other telling each other that they should not change the way they do things because change to them is very unsettling. Strong hearted, and determined they fixed the relationship many times again and remained together, until a friend of the boy's joins the picture and the girl spends time with him more than her boyfriend. The boy was shook he starts to become extremely jealous because he felt that he wasn't getting any love from his girlfriend. The boy was devastated when his friend developed feelings for his girlfriend which caused him to barely get any rest, cry a lot, become more sensitive, and think of suicidal thoughts because in his past he has been hurt multiple times, but he keeps on pressing on determined to find someone he can love with all of his heart without having to worry about it being damaged or shattered in the worst case. He is reluctant to keep going in this relationship, but he trusts his partner and he knows she will make the right decision even if it means he is left broken hearted.
