

The Dragon Story

by Chloe B.

A long, long time ago there was a forest that had a dragon. It was very big and as scary as 10 alligators. The dragon was near a big castle. The castle was for a king and a queen that were shy. One day, they went out into the forest with many knights for protection. Suddenly, they found the dragon. The dragon talked to them. It said, "Hello king and queen. What brings you to the forest?" The king said, "Will you ever harm us in our castle?" The dragon said "No, because I am a good dragon!" The dragon then said, "Today is my birthday!" The queen said, "Happy Birthday!" The king said, "Knights, put down your swords, bow kindly to the dragon, and shake his hand." From that point forward, they were all friends and the kingdom lived together with the dragon happily ever after.
