

IMAGINE LAND

By: Mariah B.

Once there was a girl named Lena. Lena Loved to draw more then anything in the world. She would draw everything. One day she sat down at her drawing table and thought I want to draw something amazing, something that will make everyone go "WOW, that's a great drawing, Lena". So Lena drew Imagine Land.

Imagine Land had all sorts of cool things; the coolest being a Big Train that could take you anywhere in the world. In Imagine Land, there were kids from all around the world. There were two girls that Lena created in her story. One girl was from China and her name was Melana. She had short black hair and was wearing a dress with beautiful pink roses on it. The other girl's name was Tikini and she was from Africa. Tikini had long curly hair and wore a plain old brown dress. Everybody thought Lena's drawing of Imagine Land with Melana and Tikini in it was so cool.

When Lena went to sleep that night she was proud that she had drawn such a good picture. All she wanted to do was to go to school the next day and show all of her friends about Imagine Land. When Lena woke up she noticed that she wasn't in her room; she was in Imagine Land. Oh my gosh, she said it looked like she was in the future. All of a sudden the two girls walked up to her. It was Tikini and Melana. They told her that Imagine Land was really low on energy and the only way to get out of Imagine Land was to help generate more energy for Imagine Land. Lena wanted to get out of Imagine Land as soon as possible so she came up with a plan. She started by planting a lot of plants in the Imagine Land Garden. That helped some. Then she went to Imagine Land beach and tried to get as much trash as she could out of the sand. That helped just a little bit. Then she watered all of the plants in Imagine Land. That did the trick. She helped make Imagine Land great again.

Tick Tick Tick, she was awakened by her alarm. She was still in bed, it was all a dream. Lena somehow knew though that she could make a difference in this world by her own efforts. That made her very happy!