

The Mustache Day – Griselda E.

One morning I suddenly wake up and I remembered it was mustache day and I get nervous. As I prepared to go to school I was still thinking about the mustache. Then I put my clothes, my shoes and my mom brush my hair and I was ready to school. On the way to school I was still thinking about the mustache but I said in my mind I have to stop those nerves. When I get to school I saw some of my classmates with a mustache and I said in my mind how they don't have nerves but I keep walking to the end of the line. When we get to the class my friend Gicelle gave me mustache. I put it on then I was even more nervous. Then I remembered that we had to go to the science lab so, I thought this is the more painful day of my life. In the science lab was painful, but when we get to the class I just let pass the time and when I remembered I saw the clock and it was 2:30. I get so happy because my painful day was almost over. On the way to home I was talking with my mom about my day of school. When my mom, my brother and me get to home I put the mustache so, my mom can saw me. And she laughed a little and she told me you look beautiful but I told her I know you are lying I look ugly but I was happy to be home. Then I thought this look like a bad day that happened to a girl named Griselda. And I still remembered that and I will never forget that painful experience.
