

At the Farm

Esteban R. – 5th Grade

There once was a little pig. His name was Bob. He lived at a farm with his best friend Billy. Billy was also a pig. They knew since they were one year old. Now they are five years old and they can play for days. Then a new animal that came to the farm, it was a warthog. Bob and Billy tried to become friends with him but he would get them scared. So they pushed him in the mud. Then they found out that he was sick one week. Later once he wasn't sick they found out that he was not mad. They they became best friends. The End.