My life as: a superhero

Pow! Bam! Kablam! Uh-oh, it was now 1 against 4! How was I going to defeat them all of them at the same time? Why oh why can't I just be in my pajamas binge watching and eating? Well, here goes nothing. Bam!

Briiiiiiiing! Just like that, it was second period. I can't believe the unbelievable day I've had! I should have not taken on this job! Why oh why couldn't I just take up a job at the local McDonald's?! Oh, well, who cares? Whoops! I forgot to introduce myself. Hi, I'm Mia Williams and I'm 15 years old. I'm a superhero under the name Sirena. Nobody knows my secret identity, or so I thought. It turns out my BFF Olivia Hutchins, saw me transform into a superhero.

It was a half – day at school and during dismissal 2 strange but familiar villains paid a visit to my school. Their names were ElectroVision and Dynamite. I had to transform, and fast! So I went behind a car with my amulet, took it out of my pocket, and chanted: "Within me my powers will swim around, safe and sound " 3 times. Turns out, Olivia filmed the whole darn thing. My manager Aaron Crawford would kill me if it weren't for my grandma Blue Jeans.

That's not her real name of course. Granny's real name is Bianca Wells and she knew that from the very moment she laid eyes on me that I was special. When I was a baby, I was left on her porch inside of a box with a blanket inside. Ever since that day, Granny has taken care of me as if I were her own granddaughter.

Anyways, Aaron Crawford is the man who owns To Infinity & Beyond enterprises. It's a secret organization for superheroes that actually lead normal lives. Their headquarters are right next to London Bridges' Apartment Complex which is near my school. Aaron and his board of trustees are super- supportive and super-nice. But if he knew about Olivia, I was a goner.

So I brought Olivia to headquarters and fingers crossed it worked. When I was allowed to go home, I was a wreck. I had a battle at the Greenfield Stadium. I washed up real quick and then headed out the door. There was ElectroVision. I was careful not to look him in the eyes. If you didn't know, ElectroVision has eyes that hypnotize people. All he has to do is get a screen in front of their eyes. He can also hack, morph, and be invisible. I've always assumed it was a he though...

When I arrived it was empty, but then I felt a whoosh of cold air. ElectroVision likes to play games, huh? Bam! I bet I knocked ElectroVision out. I used my supersonic scream to push him away from me. He came bounding back, this time instead of being invisible, he turned into a bull. I used my water hands to shoot water at him. He quickly turned into an elephant.

ElectroVision was running out of ideas. I could tell by the way his powers were wearing off. He ran straight out of the stadium. I did the same and ran home.

“Anybody home?” I called. No answer. I called Granny but there was still no answer. Well, I guess it’s just me tonight. I quickly showered and changed into my jammies, then I made some popcorn, cozied in on the couch with a blanket. Aaaaah. Me – time. Five minutes later, my phone lit up. It was from Granny Blue Jeans. As soon as I read the text, I put on a pair of UGG’s and ran outside. This is what she texted me:
