

The Guy Who Lost His Mom

By Traeh G.

Hi, my name is Justin. It is my first day at college. My mom signed me up for a class that I have been begging for...I'm sorry, I did not tell you how old I am....I am 15 years old.

Let's get back on with the story. The class is science. I am on my way to school. When I walk in there are science labs and a lot of science things. I enter my class room there are 12 students. The teacher walks in.

'Make your one potion.' He says.

He left the room.

The teacher said I will be back soon.

The teacher came back. The teacher comes. The teacher goes. The teacher comes around.

Sadly the teacher said that I got an "F".(fail)

When Justin came home he was looking at a dead mom.

Justin needed more money to get a new class. The bad guy took all the money. He went to the store right next to his house. He goes to the store manger. He even says to the manger, 'can I get a job?'

The boss said sure.

He went to put food and candy on the shelves. Soon the job is done. He earned 45 dollars. He needs $200 to get a new class.

It is a holiday. The store is closed. He stays at his friend's house. His friend is Sam. They met at school.

They bumped in to each other. They said they were sorry and became friends. Justin told Sam about what hapend.

It was night time when Justin heard a police siren. He woke up and saw the 3 police cars in front of his friend's house. There was a bad guy on the loose.

He had stuff like my mom and he said to himself "is this the bad guy who killed my mom?"

Justin thinks and thinks and thinks.

Soon he said to himself, "should I go to the police office which is 20 miles away?" He leaves in the morning at 7:30am.

When he gets there he says to the officer "what did you guys say to that bad guy last night?" They said that he was under arrest for murdering someone. But when we were catching up to him he disappeared. So if you see him again, please tell me about it, the officer said, "OK?"

Fast-forward to the afternoon. Justin was on the way to his job. The manager said to stack the boxes and put things in the freezer, but Justin said "I don't want to do that." Soon Justin was fired. He had only $75 to his name.

The next day he went to work at Home Depot. His job was to use the forklift. Then he went to the police officer because he got a call from the officer. They said that they got the bad guy.

He got back the stolen money. He is able to get a new class now.

Five years later... he is one of the most famous scientists now. The main thing he studies is how his mom died. He finds out what happens and he shares it with everyone in town. It is on the news and the newspaper. He is everywhere. He wishes his mom would still be here. He thinks if his mom is listening.

Eventually Justin dies. Now his kids learn about him in science. They wish to become like him someday. Now his kids are famous too...

So something that happened that was very, very bad helped many generations become very, very great. Sometimes it just takes a little bit of time for the good to show up.

The End.
