BOOM! BOOM! BOOM! The city of Arlington was in peace until a group of aliens were standing in the middle of the city and shot three laser beams. They shouted, "WE WILL DESRTOY YOU IF YOU DON'T SURRENDER". The aliens started to shout again this time louder "SOON WE WILL TAKE OVE THE WHOLE WORLD". The leader alien was about to start to shout some insults about humans when something knocked him over and then the rest of the aliens toppled to the ground. In a flash someone had punched, kicked, bruised, and tied up the aliens. Then someone was standing in front of the aliens. "Hey, it's Meteorite" shouted a little boy called Charlie Tide. "That's right" said the figure standing in front of the aliens then he walked closer. Now the aliens could see the figure, it was a man with a fierce red colored cape." My name is Meteorite and I'm afraid you will have to leave, I hope you enjoyed the stay aliens" said Meteorite. The aliens immediately took their ray guns out and said "We were prepared for you Meteorite "and they blasted Meteorite with no warning.

At first everyone thought that the laser beam would not hurt Meteorite. Boy were they wrong, that particular laser beam was made of a really rare rock called sonic wave Meteorite 's one and only weakness. Meteorite knew that if that laser beam hit him he was doomed so he did the one thing he could do dodge it with his lightning fast reflexes. The laser beam missed him by a second. Without wasting any time Meteorite threw energy balls at the aliens with caused them to lose their balance. As quick as the wind Meteorite caught the aliens in midair threw them up and kicked each one of them into the sky. While flying through the sky the lead alien gritted his teeth and said in a nasty voice "I'll get you back you Meteorite "and with that the alien pulled the trigger on his ray gun five times.

Five laser beams were heading down toward Meteorite. Meanwhile Meteorite was muttering under his breath “Goodness that was a close one “. Just then four laser beams hit a small building close to Meteorite. Meteorite was about to go help get the people away from the crumbling building when the final laser beam hit Meteorite. He crashed into another building and the whole crowd tried to follow him inside the building but everyone was trying to go in at the same time so no one could enter except for little Charlie Tide. Once he went in he followed the hole that went deep in the building. When he finally reached the end of the hole he let out big gasp. Right in front of Charlie was the world’s most favorite hero Meteorite sitting on the floor with blood splattered all over him. Meteorite was the first one to speak “son, this is the end of me but not the end of Meteorite, you must take this cape and be the people ‘s hero”. Charlie barely managed to stammer “but how? I ‘m just a kid “.

Meteorite said “you will figure it all out son and my name is John Mathews “and with that he took out his cape and threw his cape at Charlie and fell to the floor. Charlie put on the cape and suddenly he was a grown man then Charlie looked at John and saw a man who was seventy-two or three. The brand-new Meteorite picked up old John’s body and ran as fast as he could to the outside. Once he was outside he asked the big crowd “is there anyone who is a relative of John Mathews?”. No one raised their hand except for an old lady who said in a low and croaky voice “he’s my son”.

“Well mam you see here um your son has um died “said Meteorite. The woman let out a huge gasp. The woman started to cry “no it can’t be my son”. Someone told her “it’s okay” and led her home. A few days later there was a funeral and ever since then

Charlie vowed to not let any other person pass away till the cape he wore belonged to someone else. Meteorite tried his best to be the old Meteorite but years passed and the once little Charlie was a grown man. Charlie was getting old and he knew the perfect person to hand the cape down to his beloved nephew, Brian Tide. Brian had been researching about Meteorite ever since he was eight. Now he was going turn twelve tomorrow. Charlie quickly went to a store near his home and bought a gift box. When he got home, Charlie took the, folded it and put in the giftbox. Charlie was going to walk to Brian's house so he thought he needed a good rest. When he got to his bed he fell fast asleep.

The next day Charlie walked to Brian's house. The party was terrific. When it was time to open the presents Charlie 's gift was last. Charlie took Brian for a ride to the park after the part. Charlie made him put the cape on and suddenly Brian changed to Meteorite. Three laser beams hit the ground.

BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

Charlie knew this sound, he quickly whispered what to do to Brian. "Okay" replied Meteorite. A familiar group of aliens flew through the sky to land in the park. Meteorite quickly ran up to the aliens and he said, "my name is Meteorite and I'm afraid you will have to leave". The lead alien started to say, "well what do ve have hear". Meteorite didn't waste time talking, he just threw an energy beam at them which threw them of guard. Using the opportunity Meteorite grabbed them all up flew toward the alien's planet and smashed them. Once again Meteorite saved the day!
