

John and the Coaster

By Sean O and Dalton F

One day there was a kid named John who was terrified by roller coasters. He has never gone on one. His mom said they were going on a road trip. John asked where but his mom didn't tell. They went ten hours then the car arrived at Seaworld and John was terrified. They went to the Mako (John peed his pants) but he went on. They got to the front of the line...John got on...and he went up 100 feet off the ground and went....down! They went in twist and turns over everywhere. "I want to go on another one that was awesome!" They went on another and another. It was AWESOME! He asked if they could go next year and his mom said "No you are too scared.....SURE!"
