Jake the Adventurer

There once was a man named Jake. He was the bravest, fiercest, and most adventurous explorer, but one day he went to explore a cave deep in a volcano that could...EXPLODE! On the way there, Jake felt so excited he could explode. But he sure hoped the volcano wouldn't explode either. When Jake arrived, he excitedly ran towards the volcano. He lowered a rope and climbed down. When Jake arrived, he turned on his flashlight and gasped. Sleeping in front of him was a...DRAGON!!! Just as Jake saw some eggs behind the dragon, the volcano began to rumble and burst out lava! After Jake heard that he saw the dragon wake up. Right before the dragon took off, Jake grabbed an egg and hopped on the dragon. When the dragon took off, Jake started swerving from left to right. The dragon was dodging big, black rocks coming from all different directions. When they finally made it to the ground, Jake slowly handed the egg to the dragon. The dragon accepted it and gracefully flew off.
