

Pineapple's 1st hunger game

By Ethan H.

One day pineapple looked in his mail and found a letter. It said: I challenge you to the fruit hunger games! Signed by, Strawberry. Pineapple was annoyed. He was thinking, maybe I should go? Because if I win the prize is $100,000,000. He could be a millionaire! But he could die from many things. Still, it's worth a try.

So pineapple went to the contest. The round was about to begin. He got ready. Go! He went for the sword and shield and then he went for cover. He heard a bunch of terrible battle cries. Strawberry saw where pineapple went, he tried to slice pineapple but pineapple blocked it with his shield. They were in a real fight!

After fighting for 6 hours, pineapple and strawberry both survived. There were only 10 fruits left. Pineapple was scared. He backstabbed someone who wasn't noticing. Someone tried to shoot an arrow at pineapple. He dodged it in the nick of time. Pineapple could not see the enemy and he ran away.

Pineapple was completely alone now. He thought that his escape was successful. However, soon pineapple saw it was time for sudden death. 3, 2, 1! Every fruit was eaten, including pineapple, and strawberry, by a human.

The end!
