

The Snow Day

In one little town by the name of Channel View, there is one little girl that goes by the name of Alyssa Cruz. She is eight years old and she enjoys many things, but her favorite thing of all time is snow. She likes snow because she was born on Christmas Eve day and when she was a little girl, she got to play with snow. But she is older and she hasn't seen or played with snow since she was five years old. So this year she is hoping that it will snow on her birthday.

It was two days before her birthday and Alyssa wanted to go shopping with her mom. What her mom didn't know is that she is going to ask to go to the broadcast news place to ask them for a forecast just like every year. She is hoping her mom will let her go because her mom says that she should just let go of the snow dream. But Alyssa knows that until it happens, she won't let it go. Now, when they were on their way to the shopping trip, Alyssa asked her mom to go to the news place and her mother said, "No". "Why, Mom? This is so not fair!" Alyssa said. Her mom told her that she won't take her and that was the end of the conversation. After their shopping trip, they went home for dinner. After dinner, Alyssa went straight to sleep because she only had tomorrow that she had to wait for her snow. As soon as Alyssa heard her alarm clock she popped out of bed and went downstairs to eat breakfast. When she went downstairs, she ate her food then she went with her dad to the place where they take the forecast and they said that there is a fifty percent chance that it will snow on her birthday. After she and her dad went to the broadcast place, Alyssa went home and she did the same thing she did yesterday because tomorrow is her birthday.

As soon as Alyssa woke up she smelled her favorite breakfast so she got ready for her big day and headed downstairs. When she got downstairs she saw her family and her birthday cake waiting for her. Then all of a sudden she saw some kind of white stuff falling from the sky. When she figured out it was snow she ran outside and played in the snow for the rest of the morning. Well, I guess dreams can come true no matter what you wish for.

By: Liberty A.