The Knightly Rescue

Once upon a time there was a knight named Jim. Who welds the enchanted diamond sword to protect his kingdom and the enchanted diamond from the dark wizard who has the dark staff of doom. One day the dark wizard came to the kingdom and stole the enchanted diamond sword. Jim the knight followed him. The wizard magically disappeared in a cloud of smoke. The smoke led to the wizard's tower. Jim followed the path and when he got there he used his rope to get up the tower. When he got up the tower he searched for the wizard. He found the wizard and captured him, and he returned the diamond to its rightful place and put the wizard in jail and he was never to show his face in the kingdom ever again. The wizard said, "I will be back!"
