“The Special Day”

Today I will talk about my auntie and my uncle. My auntie’s name is Mi Mi and she is 25. My uncle’s name is Pop and he is 32. My auntie’s aunt was best friend’s with my mommy. My auntie and my uncle’s first date was at the movies.

The story goes like this. My auntie and my uncle got in the car and went to the movies. They had three choices. The choices were Batman and Superman or Martin Luther King Jr and Lucy. So they watched Batman and Superman. While she was sleeping in the movie theater, he gave his coat to her then he went to make her a romantic dinner and there was a big card. She woke up and she was happy that he did that for her.

He was the special man for her. She fell in love at first sight .Two years later, they were expecting. Although my aunt was young and still in school at the time, my cousin was born October 30, 2006.

They named her Ta'Niya. Seven years later they decided to have another baby, another baby girl. They named her Madison. Now all they are waiting on is their marriage, so keep your fingers crossed.
