

The Boy Who Got Sucked Up By a Wormhole

By Emerson C.

So my name is Matt, I'm the boy that went missing and got sucked up by a giant wormhole. So you must be wondering "How did you even get sucked up by a giant wormhole!" Well then let the story begin. So it all started one year after my great grandfather had passed away, but the one thing me and my mom never did was go see his grave. I always wonder why we never went there, so one day I asked my mom if we could go see the grave. My mom was hesitant but finally agreed to go see the grave. When we got there my mom said that she had to go park the car. I didn't understand where my mom was going to park, we were in a wood? So I got out of the car and used the directions my mom gave me. I found the place my mom was talking about, but it didn't look like a graveyard at all. It looked like one of these weird rock places where all these big rocks were in a circle. Oh wait I remember now, it's called a Stonehenge. Suddenly my mom said "no not again!" I was standing in the middle of the Stonehenge and the ground started to open up beneath me forming a big purple and blue hole. Before I fell in my mom muttered "Why did he have to do the same mistake as his father." and her crying with some of her tears landing on my face as I got sucked up. The portal closed above me and then I started falling to where I thought was my death. When I look up I see this ugly devil like creature standing above me with the wings flapping. "Now what do we have here" said a very deep and crackly force. "Is this dinner dad?" "I have never had human". "No" said the very deep force. "We must report him to the king." "Yes my father" said the small voice. "Get up you weakling" ordered the deep voice. Ye... yes sir. They put me in a big bird cage and flew me up to this really eerie fortress. I was terrified I didn't know where I was or where my mom was, plus I'm going crazy or something like that. They took me into the fortress, and there I saw human slaves! Wait... no that cannot be him... he is dead! How come I'm seeing my great grandfather! Who's that man sitting next to him? "Son" cried the man sitting next to my grandfather. "That's my boy, my son" cried the man. "Give him to me right now you devils from the evil's soul!" "Silence!" shouted a huge devilish monster sitting in a throne above all of us. "Your lord we have brought you another slave." The devilish lord chained me up with magic and sent me, my so call dad, some lady, and my dad. One week later.... I have made a plan for all of us human w slaves to escape from this horrible place. I have only had one meal since I have been here! So here's my plan we can escape by going through the back door in the kitchen, then we can go through the hole in the giant fence that's in the back all at night. The only problem I have is that well how to get back to you know the human world. Two whole months later... So right now I'm in so much pain, but at least I got a spell book from that crazy library. So how to get into a crazy library 101. First of all you have to have the guts to do it. Second of all you have to try and get in there past the guard (steal some cake from the kitchen and they will let you in). Step three get away from the flame throwers and darts which are covered in poison (Found that out by the guards before they let me go in) Step four grab the book you want and run (because bats are chasing after you). That is how you get the book and escape. One month later me my dad, grandfather, and Amy are going to escape today. We were almost out but Amy the lady I had talked about earlier had gotten trapped by one of the guards outside in the front. They had spotted us; I thought that we were doomed for sure. They were flying to us trying to get close enough to grab us. Quickly I open up the spell book and said the enchantment. Suddenly the worm hole had opened up and me, my dad, and my great grandfather all jumped into the giant worm that was now colored a black and red color. We landed our self in another whole place than earth! Oh no... I grumbled.
