

Valentine Puppy by Katherine F.

It was a few days before Valentine's Day. Sasha could not wait any longer to know who her valentine was going to be. Jeremy was the boy Sasha liked. The next day she made Valentine cards for everyone in the school. It was Wednesday on Friday it was going to be Valentine's Day. When Sasha got to school she went to the gym, the whole school was going to have a Valentine's party. She went to get the decorations she was one of the people who had to decorate for the party. When Sasha got home she was really tired so she took a nap. On Thursday there was no school so all the students could go buy clothes for the party. Sasha bought a dress that had lots and lots of hearts. She went to bed early so the day could end quickly'' I wish this night could end quickly'' Sasha thought.

Finally the day Sasha was waiting for VALENTINE'S DAY! ,''YAAAY!'' she screamed. When she got to school she was wearing her giant heart dress. She handed out her cards to everyone. When she got to her locker there was a big box with holes Sasha opened the box, ''A PUPPY!'' she screamed, the puppy's collar had a little piece of paper, it said ''This puppy is for you because you're special from; Jeremy ''Sasha felt like the happiest girl in the universe. At 8;00 pm Sasha put her party dress on and went to the Valentine's day party. Sasha her new adorable puppy and Jeremy danced all night being happy all 3 of them together. When Sasha got home she decided to name her puppy Valentine Puppy.
